Presidents Message

We had the good fortune of having Ed McGee, the General Manager of the York Harley-Davidson operation, as our guest speaker at the January PDM. He shared the story of their transition and some very impressive improvements that have been made to their operations. Although their Lean journey isn't over, the results speak for themselves. Ed confessed that they had tried lean initiatives in the past that didn't quite deliver the desired results. He emphasized the importance of the cultural change, not just the tools. It reminds us that persistence and commitment are two key ingredients to positive change.

We are most fortunate to have Lloyd Morgan, Senior Executive VP of Global Services with St. Onge, as our guest speaker in February. It promises to provide some insights into supply chain practices around the globe. In addition to being interesting, it may just provide some ideas that could work in your respective organizations.

PDM's, (Professional Development Meetings), are intended to help you grow through learning new approaches, sharing ideas, and providing a forum for you to spend time with others in the supply chain field. We are committed to providing you with the opportunities for professional development. Please feel free to invite other professionals in your life to our PDM's. We welcome guests. And when they meet our members and find how wonderful they are, they won't want to miss a meeting.

In addition to some pretty cool door prizes, we had a drawing at the January PDM for a complementary registration at the Congress for Progress conference in Harrisburg on February 10th, valued at $420. Robin Volker had the luck of the draw, and will attend the conference complements of LORK. Congratulations, Robin! Enjoy the opportunity to learn.

We have quite a few members who are currently unemployed. Chapter leadership is very sensitive to this situation and want to help to the greatest degree we are able. We have communicated some job opportunities by e-mail, our website, and our LinkedIn Group. If your organization has some job opportunities, or you know of someone who does, reach out to the fellow members to help make the connection that could be a real win-win for all involved.

As always, don't forget to check out the education schedule that Kim Baker and the education team have put together. The upcoming events are listed in the newsletter and the complete schedule can be found on our website at www.apics-lork.org.

If you haven't already, please join LORK on LinkedIn.com. From the LinkedIn home page go to "Groups" and search for LORK.

Thank you for your great support of the LORK Chapter, and I look forward to seeing you on February 9th.

Certification Maintenance

The APICS Certification Maintenance Program is available to keep APICS CPIM, APICS CFPIM, and APICS CSCP designees at the top of their game. The program incorporates a variety of professional development opportunities for APICS certification designees to stay current and continue reaping the benefits of the APICS community.

The APICS Certification Maintenance Program uses professional development points as a simple way for you to keep track of your APICS certification maintenance activities. Once you earn your APICS certification, most operations management-related activities will help you earn points toward maintaining that certification. APICS CPIM and APICS CSCP designees must earn a total of 75 professional development points within five years of receiving their designation. APICS CFPIM designees must earn a total of 100 professional development points in the same span of time. You can download the Certification Maintenance Bulletin from www.apics.org/certification/maintenance

- Automatic response to candidates that the application has been received
- Combined point tracking form and professional development journal
- Decreased response time
- Ability to update and re-submit information if required
